

R J STEWART'S INNER TEMPLE TRADITIONS AND INNER CONVOCATION CLASS at Hawkwood College in 2010

---

6-8 July 2010

A three day residential intensive for ongoing work within the Inner Temple Traditions and Inner Convocation. Taught by R J Stewart, with Caitlin Matthews, Anastacia Nutt, and assistant teachers.

Following from our 2009 workshops at Hawkwood and in Glastonbury, this ongoing set of classes is for anyone who has previously done Inner Temple work with R. J. Stewart and his trained teachers in Britain, Europe, the USA or Canada. We seek to bring together a British and International group for this event. We will focus on two main themes:

- 1 Polarity work between Priests and Priestesses in pairs, triads, and groups.*
- 2 Purification, redemption, and liberation of various classes of spirit beings.*

Both themes will include substantial methods not previously taught, and thus form an advanced training for those who have done previous Inner Convocation work and received the Inner Temple Consecration from R.J. Early booking is recommended.

Following the Inner Temples classes we continue at Hawkwood for an open weekend (all are welcome, including new members) on 8-11 July 2010: The Way of Merlin, based on R.J. Stewart's book on the bardic/druidic methods found in the original pre-Arthurian Merlin or Myrddyn tradition of the Prophet, The Goddess, and the Land.
